DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 12-14 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on December 20, 2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by The Prior Art of Figure 1E. A disc storage sleeve is disclosed in the Prior Art of Figure 1E comprising a storage compartment having lateral boundaries defined by the outer edges of a joined front wall and back wall. A disc access opening is provided for entry of a disc into the storage compartment. A disc retention joint is formed by retention nubs 164 that is laterally spaced from the storage compartment to prevent the disc 162 from sliding out.

4. Claims 1, 2, 8, 9, 11 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bergh et al (US Patent no. 6,446,800). A sleeve for holding digital video discs and graphics is disclosed comprising a first storage compartment defined by a front wall 6, a second storage compartment by a back wall 20 and a divider sheet 18 between the front and back walls to form the first and second storage compartments. A disc access opening is provided under flap 14 for entry of a disc into the first storage compartment. Stop seal 28, 32 forms a retention joint configured to assist in the retention of the disc located within the first storage compartment. The sealing of the front wall 6 to the middle sheet 18 at 28, 32 laterally spaces the stop seal from the second storage compartment. The stop seal 28, 32 is also laterally spaced relative to lateral edges 12.

As to claim 2, the sleeve further comprises a connector 38.

As to claim 8, the stop seal 28, 32 has a curved edge shaped joint.

As to claim 9, the edges of sheets 20, 18 joined together manifestly define a welded vertical seam.

As to claim 11, the front, back and dividers are substantially rectangular in shape.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. Claims 1-5, 8, 9, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over The Prior Art of Figure 1E in view of Temple et al (US Patent no. 5,396,987). The Prior Art of figure 1E discloses a disc storage sleeve having a compartment defined by a front and back member sealed together with a retention joint 164 positioned laterally along a vertical edge of the flat disc storage sleeve. The difference between claim 1 and the Prior Art of Figure 1E resides in a second compartment formed by a back wall secured to a divider sheet.

Temple discloses a sheet construction that relates to the art of containers for discs and teaches overlapping sheets 30, 31, 32 to form multiple pockets. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the sleeve of the Prior Art of Figure 1E by constructing a second compartment defined by a back wall as taught by Temple, in to form a sleeve for holding a brochure or pamphlet associated with the disc.

As to claims 2-4, forming the connector integral or as a separate element affixed to the front and back wall and divider would have been an obvious expedient manner of construction within the level of ordinary skill.

As to claim 9, a welded seam is defined at 18 of Temple.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 6, 7, 10 and 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

REPLY BY APPLICANT OR PATENT OWNER TO THIS OFFICE ACTION

9. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.

If no amendments are made to claims as applicant or patent owner believes the claims are patentable without further modification, the reply must distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the examiner's action and must respond to every ground of objection and rejection in the prior Office Action in the same vain as given above, 37 CFR 1.111 (b) & (c), M.P.E.P. 714.02.

The examiner also points out, due to the change in practice as affecting final rejections, older decisions on questions of prematureness of final rejection or admission of subsequent amendments do not necessarily reflect present practice. "Under present practice, second or any subsequent actions on the merits shall be final, except where the examiner introduces a new ground of rejection that is neither necessitated by applicant's amendment of the claims nor based on information submitted in an information disclosure statement filed during the period set forth in 37 CFR 1.97(c)" (emphasis mine), see MPEP 706.07(a).
